

POSTCARD

Snow Covered Village

The ducks are looking for a drink from the frozen stream.

All is still and quiet—except for the quacking of ducks

Fingers all numb from making snowmen and throwing snowballs

What do we need to build a snowman?

Winter Walk

The blanket of snow is crisp and everywhere is white

Muffled footsteps as we walk through the blanket of snow

Catching snowflakes on our tongues

What's your favourite winter game?

POSTCARD

Glowing Sunset

Pinks, purples, many colours reflecting off the still water.

Listen to the birds heading home to roost?

The sun has lost its power but we can still feel the warm colours on our skin.

What winter colours do you like?

POSTCARD

Frost

How does winter make you feel?

Frost crystal, growing on the brambles making nature look strange and beautiful

The Robins sings his sweet melody, singing to stay warm I wonder?

Feeling the winter chill on our skin,
Jack Frost is nipping at our nose

POSTCARD

Storm Breaking

Would we find flotsam or jetsam?

Red, yellow, pink & green, many colours of the rainbow

Water crashing up on the path wall, throwing debris onto the path

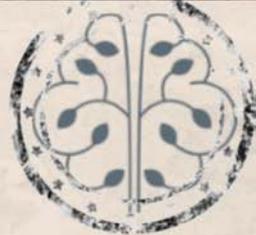

The spray from the stormy water get's blown onto our skin

POSTCARD

Starlight

Stars lighting up the night sky, is that the milky way ?

The night-time coming to life, with distant waves lapping the shore

The sun is heading to bed and the moon is coming out to play

What would you say to the man in the moon?
